

Thursday 14th January

Today we are going to find out where Ronald the Rhino lives.

Here are some Javan rhinoceros (rhinos).

Where do you think they live?

Javan rhinos live in Indonesia.

Here it is on a world map

The islands coloured in red are all part of Indonesia.

Javan rhinos live in the country of Indonesia.

Indonesia is in the continent of Asia.

Fascinating Fact!

Indonesia is made up of 17,000 islands!

Why is Ronald called a Javan rhino if he lives in Indonesia?

The Island of Java is one of the 17,000 islands that makes up Indonesia.

Javan rhinos live on the island of Java in Indonesia.

Did you know that Java has more people living on it than any other island in the world!

There are thirty-eight mountains on Java,
which have all been active volcanoes.

The natural environment of Java is a tropical rainforest.

Javan rhinos live in a special place in Java called Ujung Kulon National Park.

Ujung Kulon National Park.

Ujung Kulon National Park is the only place on Earth where Javan rhinos can still be found.

Researches think there are only 40 - 60
Javan rhinos that still exist today.

This means they are an endangered species
and they need to be protected to stop them
becoming extinct (not existing anymore)

What do you think rainforests are like?

They are forests with very tall trees.

It rains a lot in rainforests and there are thirty million species of plants and animals that live in tropical rainforests.

Lots of things we eat come from rainforests,
like chocolate, sugar and medicine.

Here are some other animals found in Ujung
Kulon National Park.
